Abstract:

The decision to organise the second "Workshop on Taiwan Studies: Taiwan – Past and Present" was motivated by the success of the first workshop in 2010. Since Taiwan Studies and Taiwan-related topics are still underrepresented in degree programmes at European universities, the workshop will be treated as the equivalent of a one-semester course (4 credits). The wider goal is to promote Taiwan Studies among Eastern and Western European students of Chinese Studies and related fields. Classes in this workshop will take the form of lectures and seminars and require active participation from the students (discussion, presentations). Students will also be offered practical information about networking possibilities within Europe (EATS, Poland, UK) and study opportunities in Taiwan.
